Saddles Ltd

AH Saddles Ltd supply high quality, traditionally handmade, English leather saddles. Our mission is to achieve an exceptional fit for the modern horse and pony, and our saddles are designed by Andrea Hicks who has specialised in difficult to fit breeds for over 20 years.

To create an exceptional saddle demands great care in the selection of materials and components, and skilful craftsmanship in its construction. Fundamental to the correct fit of a saddle is the design of the tree, which must follow the shape of a horse's back, and so a carefully selected range of tree shapes suited to the specialist fitting needs of wider and sometimes flatter breeds underpins our designs. We combine this with panels that are predominantly close contact as we have found this provides better all-round stability on wider breeds, and allows the rider to feel close to the horse. These panels are all wool flocked to allow adjustment to fit you and your horse. At AH Saddles we prefer wool flocking as it is breathable. This natural property of the fibre helps keep a horse's back cooler and provides a much more comfortable ride for both horse and rider. Our saddles also incorporate four strap girthing to further aid fitting these breeds.

Our saddles can accommodate the fitting needs of native ponies, cobs, warmbloods, native crosses, Iberian horses, Arabian horses, draft horses and more! Our range comes in widths from medium to extra wide, some designs for the larger breeds are even available in extra extra wide plus. We can even custom make a saddle to fit your needs.

The AH Saddles range includes Dressage, Jumping, General Purpose, Show, Working Hunter and Pony saddles. Our Pony Saddle section is where you will find Dressage, GP, Jumping, Working Hunter and Show saddles in smaller seat sizes.

STIRRUP LEATHERS

Our AH stirrup leathers are super soft English leather, non stretch and lined with nylon for extra strength. Our slimline leathers offer super comfort under the leg and are suitable for any discipline (reinforced stirrup leathers illustrated).

Sizes: 48", 54", 56" & 58"

CLOSE CONTACT T-BAR STIRRUP LEATHERS

These are designed to reduce bulk under the rider's leg, making them an ideal complement to a dressage saddle. They are made using a single length of English leather with a bonded nylon core. The strap has a loop at one end to go over the stirrup bar, and is adjustable at the other. The free end is fed through the stirrup (then secured using a t-bar fixing back through the stirrup leather by the rider's ankle). Suitable for any leather saddle where the rider needs maximum communication with their horse.

Sizes: Small, Medium, Large

PADDED GIRTH

Our padded girths are made with English leather and are padded with elastic at both ends for stability and comfort. They work well with AH Saddles.

Sizes: 38" - 52" Additional sizes are available as a custom order, please contact us for details.

ANATOMICAL GIRTHS

English leather girth with a soft padded back for horse comfort and elasticated both ends.

The girth is shaped so that it has an anatomical arc which contours forward and around the horse's elbows, while allowing the girth straps to sit farther back. The girth's contoured shape allows the saddle to be properly positioned behind the horse's shoulder blades, whilst keeping the girth at 90 degrees to the floor.

AH SADDLES LTD - CARING FOR YOUR LEATHER SADDLE OR TACK

Each AH Saddle is distinctive as the hides from which they have been specially hand crafted are prepared using a tanning process that brings to life the natural features of each skin. Taking proper care of your AH leather saddle will greatly enhance their appearance and lifespan. All new pieces of leather must be properly treated in order to prolong their life and help maintain their natural oils.

Please condition your new saddle before first use and once or twice again during the 14 day trial period.

We only recommend conditioner from Sedgwick, leather suppliers in Walsall, as well as a hand made conditioner from www.unicornleather.co.uk. These conditioners do not contain petroleum distillate solvents which damage leather but instead are rich in beeswax, lanolin and animal fats all of which protect and feed the leather. A 500ml tub would roughly last a year for one saddle and bridle.

Caring for leather is always a two stage process. Cleaning the dirt off is best done with hand-hot or warm water and an old fashioned knitted cotton dishcloth and a bit of elbow grease.

Once clean you can condition your saddle on all surfaces. It is critical that you feed the girth straps so that they are never at risk of cracking and breaking, not just the upper surface of the saddle. Conditioner on the top of the saddle will protect from the weather and lubricate where stirrup leathers rub, but conditioner applied to the reverse, more open, side of the thick leathers, will actually feed it. The underside of the flaps can also mark, conditioner applied to all surfaces will help prevent this, including the reverse of the upper edge of the buckle guard, if your saddle has them. Thinner leathers on the seat, knee pads and the panels underneath need less conditioning.

If the saddle gets very wet clean it first then dry slowly away from any direct heat. It can be useful to condition it while still very slightly damp as it seals in moisture. More than one application may be required to restore shine.

Once the conditioner has dried (allow 3 hours minimum for proper drying, overnight is better) then the saddle can be buffed if you like a highly finished surface.

The panel of all our saddles is filled with high quality pure grey British wool and it must be maintained carefully. To avoid denting the panel please store on an old fashioned wooden saddle rack, or a pole rack, protecting the smooth leather on the gullet from any damage from friction. "Wire" style more modern saddle racks can dent the panels and we recommend heavily padding them, an old pillow taped around the rack is ideal.

Always keep the cover on your saddle when not in use and should not be put on doors, gates etc without padding. Leaning your saddle up against a hard surface will damage the leathers on the knee pads or the cantle or both.

It is very important that the wool that is put into your saddle panel when it is re-flocked is always of the same type. Mixed flocking can result in the flocking becoming lumpy and hard. We recommend you use an AH Specialist saddle fitter for the re-flocking of your saddle.

AH SADDLES LTD - CHECKING YOUR OWN SADDLE - FITTING GUIDE

1. Place the saddle on the horse and girth it up securely on the recommend girth straps. Making sure the saddle is placed 2 fingers behind the scapular/shoulder:

2. Check the balance of the saddle to see if it is level, you can do this by placing a rolling object on the seat it will roll to the lowest point. If it runs to the front of the saddle the saddle may be too wide if it runs to the back of the seat the saddle maybe too narrow. Riding in a new saddle can change the balance as the saddle beds in.

3. Check the wither clearance this can be 2 – 4 fingers, it will come down considerably once the saddle is ridden in.

4. Run your hand down the front of the panel (see next photo) this should be easy to do, if it feels tight it could be that you have placed the saddle too far forwards against the scapular/ shoulder blade or that you need a different tree width. Tightness can be caused both by the saddle being too wide so all the weight is concentrated at the top edge of the saddle either side of the withers, or by being too narrow which means the panel will feel too tight lower down near the end of the tree points located under the point pockets.

5. Check for bridging; this means there would be a noticeable gap between the horses back and the centre of the saddle panel, this would indicate that the horses need a different tree or panel shape, a smaller seat size, more flocking in the centre of the saddle or a wider saddle. The girth must be firmly done up before you check for bridging.

AH SADDLES LTD - CHECKING YOUR OWN SADDLE - FITTING GUIDE

6. Make sure the saddle is not sitting past the last rib - find the last rib low down on the flank and follow it up diagonally.

7. Now check for pivoting by placing your hands on the pommel and cantle and seeing if there is any excessive movement from back to front. If there is excessive movement you may need a flatter tree, a less curved panel or the saddle could be too wide at the front or require flock balancing.

8. With every saddle fitting or saddle check you will have been told which girth straps to use. All our saddles have four girth straps including point and balance, see photo to the right.

We recommend that most New Forest ponies, Exmoor ponies, Connemara ponies and all small M&Ms often need the 1st & 3rd girth straps.

Large cobs, Traditional cobs, Welsh cobs or horses where rolling is a problem often need 1st & 4th girth straps. Large draft horses can often need 1st & 4th or 2nd & 4th. In some case where the horse has an asymmetry we may advise girthing asymmetrically.

9. Once you are happy the saddle is suitable try using the saddle in walk, trot and canter; it's best to ride at a walk for 10 minutes then check the girth before trot and canter as the saddle can bed in and leave the girth quite loose. The saddle needs to be stable in all paces - excessive movement at the back indicates that either the tree is too curved or possibly too wide, or that the saddle panel needs some adjustment for your horse.

10. After riding check the horse's coat under the saddle; swirled or ruffled hair means the saddle is unstable, the hair should all be smooth.

this condition 15 and condition 16 below. The warranty is non-transferable and only applies to the person named on the sales invoice. This warranty does not apply to ex-demo and second-hand saddles. It is the responsibility of the buyer to satisfy themselves of the condition, price and warranty terms of their purchase. In the unlikely event of a warranty claim, AH Saddles Ltd shall decide, in its absolute discretion, to replace or repair the faulty item free of charge, provided that the buyer can provide proof of purchase and that AH Saddles Ltd has had an opportunity to accept the warranty claim as valid following examination and verification that the fault is genuine by an AH Saddles Ltd authorised person. 16. Period of Warranty for new AH Saddles Ltd saddles / Warranty Terms and Conditions:

16.1. The tree has 3 years for breakage while subject to normal usage and conditions.

16.2. All other components have 1 year for faulty materials and defective workmanship.

16.3. Our warranty does not cover damage caused by abuse, neglect, lack of maintenance or wear and tear, or cover unauthorised repairs, alterations or tree adjustments. Any repairs, alterations or adjustments made by unauthorised persons will automatically cancel warranties.

17. Saddle Maintenance Essential Guidelines

For daily care we recommend you clean your leather goods after each use by removing all dirt sweat and residue. Some types of leather should also have a specialist leather conditioner applied to them to return some of their natural lubricants. We recommend you refer to our guides for the type of saddle you have purchased. (this link also contains information on saddle storage, saddle panel maintenance, girth straps and care of AH tack): <https://www.ahsaddles.com/saddle-care>

18. Aftercare and Servicing

Your saddle will need to be checked regularly for fit and balance as explained at the time of purchase. It is your responsibility to contact us to arrange this. We recommend that a new saddle is checked after approximately 12 weeks, as the wool will settle to the horse's shape. All wool-flocked saddles should be completely re-flocked after 2 to 3 years of use, and should be checked once a year and when your horse changes shape. It is important to remember that horses can change shape dependant on age, time of year, changes in work, diet and even a change of home or rider can make a difference and yearly (or even 6 monthly checks) may not be enough. It is your responsibility to arrange and monitor the fit and balance of your saddle and to contact us when a saddle needs adjusting. We recommend you use an AH specialist saddle fitter for adjustment and/or re-flocking of your saddle as unauthorised adjustments will void your warranty. Contact details for AH Saddle Fitters can be found on our Saddle Fitting and Distributor web site page. All callout saddle checks re-flocking and adjustments are chargeable. Please check with your saddle fitter for their call out charges.

19. Complaints

All complaints should be directed to Complaints Department, A H Saddles Ltd, Hillside House, 14a Coombe Road, Weston Super Mare, Somerset, BS23 2QP, United Kingdom.

AH SADDLES LTD - SADDLE TRIALS AND ASSOCIATED COSTS

We offer a 14-day trial on new saddles, this is a service we offer to make sure you have made the right choice for you and your horse, most saddles that are returned during the trial period come back as new and receive a full refund. Images A & B show an example of a trial saddle that's been out twice on trial and is barely marked even under the flaps.

Images C, D, E & F show a saddle that has been on trial for two weeks; from a distance it looks okay but on closer inspection there are a few smaller issues. It has been over-conditioned, there are bad dents in the sweat flaps from girth buckles and surface scratches on the flaps and skirts. This saddle is no longer an as-new saddle and needs to be considerably reduced to sell it, we cover part of this costs as part of the service but we do pass on part of it to clients.

AH SADDLES LTD - SADDLE TRIALS AND ASSOCIATED COSTS

Image D - Surface scratches on the skirts from buckles on reins and zips are not acceptable on a return saddle

Image E - We ask you not to ride in seamed boots or rubber boots as they rub the leather on new saddles, this not only has the rub mark but less easily-seen grooves as well.

Image F - Deep dents in the sweat flaps from over-girthing.

Cost for wear on saddles that will be deducted:

- Sweat flaps damaged minor £35.00 per side, extreme damage like in the pictures £75.00 per side.
- Surface scratches that we are unable to get rid of £20.00 per scratch
- Girth straps that come back with rust damage of cuts to the leather from an old girth £20.00 per strap.

Returned goods remain your responsibility and risk until received BY AH Saddles Ltd. As such we recommend that you choose a reputable courier firm to deliver the saddle, insure it during transit and pack the item in a suitable manner. To prevent damage in transit for saddles we recommend the saddle be well packed in a double walled packing box like a removals box, pommel down, in a box roughly 18-24" square which should keep it snug. Line the bottom of the box with bubble wrap etc. as a minimum, you can also bubble wrap around the saddle especially if the box is slightly roomy. To ensure the saddle is snug you can cut the corners of the box down to make sure the lid contacts the top of the saddle. Secure with plenty of parcel tape top and bottom. Mark the box as fragile and indicate which way up it should be. You should include a copy of the original receipt in the box in case the parcel is lost, or to help us identify the saddle quickly when it arrives. The saddle should be in its cover as supplied.

We will contact you by email or phone within 24 hours of receiving the saddle (please check that we will not be on a shutdown e.g. over Christmas when you will be returning the saddle), will decide on any deductions if there is a loss in the value of the goods returned due to unnecessary handling by you, and will then make the refund by the same method as you originally paid. If you paid cash we will issue a cheque. Please be aware that this process can take a few days and that refunds onto cards have to go through the normal clearing process and are not payable via Faster Payments.
